Double Tragedy Takes Two Lives

Mrs. Geo. O. Court and her son Alvin are both dead in a tragedy which was discovered at their home the first of the week, and which will be one of the unexplained occurrences that happen every so often.

For some years past Mrs. Court and her children have been living in the north-east part of the town, looked after by others of the family and helped some by the Sugar City Municipality and the Relief Society. As the children have reached the years of maturity they have gone to work, and about two years ago the last of the girls was married and now lives in Sweet Grass. Wallace, working for Ralph Bros, had not been living at home for some time past, but called at the house two or three times a week to see that his mother and younger brother were provided with what they needed.

There is some guess work about the circumstances of the mother's death, but some things are known. Officers of the Relief Society were at the home at Christmas time and the inmates were all right and getting along fine. Wallace was there on the previous Friday Jan. 2nd and delivered some coal, and everyone was fine. When he went back Monday to inquire, the body of his mother was found lying on the kitchen floor by the stove and his younger brother was on the couch in the kitchen cold and scared. Wallace picked up the younger boy Alvin, put him in bed and cover him up, warm and comfortable, and when the lad's feet hit the floor they thudded like pieces of ice and only then did Wallace discover that his young or brother's feet and legs were frozen solid to the knees.

He put the boy in bed and immediately called the Doctor, and when the Doctor had finished his examination he pronounced a heart attack as the cause of the mother's death, the freezing following because of a lack of heat in the home. Just when the attack hit the mother is not known, but apparently it was Saturday or Sunday morning, during the coldest of the weather, just as she had risen to build the fire. The boy Alvin who has been mentally deficient since birth, apparently could not comprehend the situation, and just curled up on the couch covered himself up as best as he could and for a day or two, with his mother's dead body on the floor, lay there and gradually froze. He was taken to the Hospital in Lethbridge, and it was thought that an amputation of his legs might save his life, but the shock had been too much and he died at 7:30 Monday evening, about 6 hours after being admitted to Hospital.

No inquest will be held, and the two victims of this very sad case will be buried together. We extend our deepest sympathy to the remaining members of the family and other relatives in the sad case.

Churchill Royally Welcomed

To try to say anything new about Prime Minister Churchill's visit to the United States and Canada, or to repeat a lot of it would be waste space. History was made when he spoke before the assembled houses of both nations in the respective capitols of the two nations, and the naive wit and humor of Britain's greatest statesman won the population of both nations.

Nothing carefully planned and worked out, could have done more to unite as one the liberty loving nations of the world, than this visit at such a strategic hour. An international figure since his assuming office in Britain, Prime Minister Churchill became a home figure to America in his present visit and left an impression that will never dim of the courage, determination and tenacity of the democracies of the world in the prosecution of the war to a victorious finish. While the enemies of freedom may discount what is being done by the United Nations, we are of the opinion that Messrs Hitler, Mussolini and Tojo are well able to read the handwriting on the wall, and know for sure that their hour has struck and that the end is merely a matter of time.

Never have the peoples of North America been more united, and never have the South American nations taken a more decided stand against Hitlerism than now. Victories in Russia, China, in the Philippines; devastating air raids over Europe, the annihilation of Axis forces in Africa point to a strengthening of the hand of right against last chapter for the aggressors?

RED CROSS EXECUTIVE MEETING

The local Branch of the Red Cross Society has had a very successful year. That success has been due to the donation work and general co-operation of the many people in Raymond and district. Particularly has it been due to the untiring work of the Ladies of this local organization and also the many willing workers who have co-operated with them.

Now a new season is here and a greater demand for Red Cross activity is upon us. It will mean more work and more workers will be needed and with this in mind the local executive make an appeal for your continued splendid efforts.

The work room supervisors have been appointed for the new season as follows:

Mrs. McDill—Secretary.
Mrs. Gilmour—Knitting.
Mrs. R. Larson—Sewing.

They would appreciate having you consult them with problems or ideas that will assist them in this great universal humanitarian work.

In closing the various Committees want to say "thank you" to anyone and everyone who have contributed in any way for the past successful year. Local Executive Red Cross Society.

AIR CADET TROOP LIKELY

Meeting Sunday afternoon, representatives of the Lions and Rotary Clubs spent an hour and a half in studying the set up of the Air Cadet Training and responsibilities connected with the same.

The whole idea seemed to be a decided benefit for youth in the training they would receive and the committee reported back to the two service clubs, and the Clubs in turn voted in favor of further study of the plan, and just as soon as a Provisional Committee can be organized, a full study will be made and if convinced after this that the training could be worked out a troop will be organized and the work started.

"Hand Cart Trails" the 2nd Ward Mutual drama was presented in the First Ward on Monday, Dec. 29th to a large and appreciative audience.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Lovett Lee New Year's Day, a baby girl at their home. Mother and babe are doing fine. Nothing like starting the new year right.

GEORGE ALBERT BROWN PASSES

George Albert Brown, aged 74, passed away Dec. 26th after a lengthy illness and was laid to rest in the Cardston cemetery on Monday Dec. 29th, after services in the Cardston 2nd Ward, presided over by Bishop L.M. Rasmussen. Deceased had been a member of the Cardston 2nd Ward ever since it was organized, having lived in Cardston for almost 40 years.

While in Cardston he was engaged in farming, and for years had charge of the Cardston Town Cow herd. After his retirement he and his wife moved to Raymond, where three of the daughters now married are living. These girls are Mrs. Ted Campbell and Mrs. Clifford Williams of Raymond and Mrs. Henry Thompson of Welling. He had only been residing in Raymond some eight months or so when the end came, following several years of ill health.

We extend our sympathies to the sorrowing wife, children and other relatives in their bereavement.

John Christian, aged 80, respected citizen of the community for 39 years, passed away New Year's day after a long illness, and was laid to rest Sunday after services in the First Ward Church.

Born in Iceland, deceased emigrated to Utah in 1885 with his wife and part of his family, his oldest daughter remaining in Iceland. Having followed the trade of deep sea fisherman in Iceland, he turned to mining when he arrived in Utah, and at the time of the great Scofield mine disaster when 204 miners were killed, John was engaged at the Scofield mine, but was home in Spanish Fork when the disaster occurred.

His first wife died in Utah, and in 1902 after marrying again the family moved to Raymond, which was just then starting to grow and expand. For more than twenty years John worked as Janitor, caring for the Stake House, the Knight Academy and the Opera House all at the same time during part of this time.

A quiet and unassuming man, he made friends with all who got to know him and because of his sincerity and honesty everyone appreciated his friendship and the fine spirit of service and humility he always had with him.

FUNERAL SERVICES

Bishop J. O. Hicken was in charge of the funeral services, and the Choir was under the direction of Ira McBride, with Roi Stone at the organ. Due to the severe weather only a small crowd was present.

Speakers were Elder Jas. S. Anderson who spoke of his acquaintance and association with deceased, which went back to 1885 when deceased landed in Spanish Fork. Elder Anderson spoke of the Scofield mine disaster, and also spoke of the resurrection and of the glory awaiting men like John who died full of faith and good works. Elder H. S. Allen spoke of John's dependability and trustworthiness, and said that in his work as Janitor he took very good care of everything he looked after and was always on the job.

Bishop J. O. Hicken spoke briefly and paid tribute to deceased as a Janitor not only of the building, but also of the children, during the years the High School was held in the Knight Academy building. He also read a tribute from a neighbor regarding the splendid qualities of deceased, who was always ready to do his share.

Interment took place in the cemetery here, a nice cortege following the hearse to the graveside for the final ceremonies. With the many friends of the family we extend our deepest sympathy in their bereavement.

A NEW YEAR. WHAT WILL IT BRING?

A little late perhaps, but just the same "A Happy New Year" to everyone. We enter this year of 1942 in the throes of a world wide war. Constantly for the past two years, we have watched the theatre of war spread from Germany to the lowlands, and adjoining countries, into Africa, Greece, and the islands of the Mediterranean. Then Germany and Russia locked in a death struggle, and last of all Japan attacks United States positions in the Pacific, and British protectorates to plunge the whole world into war.

We wonder what the months of 1942 will bring. So far as Britain and her Allies are concerned, 1942 dawns with brighter prospects than did 1941. The efforts of the Nazis to crush the spirit of Britain have failed. Production of armaments and ships have increased, many more men are in uniform and training today, we are nearer equality in the air, and the spirit of the people remains firm and determined to win victory for the oppressed of the earth.

The visit of Prime Minister Winston Churchill to the United States and Canada just as the year closed has had a wonderful effect on the feeling of these two great nations. In the United States he has been given a wonderful reception, and when he crossed into Canada and addressed the Commons and the Senate in Ottawa, the ovation he was given proved his popularity and the unitedness of Canada in the cause of freedom and democracy. It is an accepted fact that there is much in the future before the world can hope for peace. While our position has improved, our enemies have been busy utilizing their all for further preparation to reach the point where they feel they can deal the death blow to democracy. The message of Nelson to his men at Trafalgar "England expects that this day every man will do his duty," holds a world of meaning today and should be the motto of every lover of freedom and liberty.

Let's carry on in 1942. We must all serve. If we can't serve in the ranks, let us be sure that we do our very best in the purchase of bonds, certificates, etc., and that we freely and willingly support every request of the Government. If the forces of aggression are smashed it will be because the democracies of the world remain united.

ed for the one purpose of seeing that liberty and equal rights prevail. We have now, and will continue to have our ideas about the fine points in the war effort. We are not asked to change our thinking, but we are asked to consecrate ourselves 100 p.c. to the winning of the war.

TOBRUK

(Editorial from the New York Times, Nov. 23rd, 1941)

The siege of Tobruk will rank with Dunkurque as one of the epic stories of this war. It appears to be ending now, not in surrender of the dogged garrison that held it through more than seven months of almost continual shelling from the air, but as that garrison fights its way westward once more across Libya. To all who admire bravery, to all who love freedom, the deliverance of the men who kept the Union Jack flying above their improvised desert fortress will be cause for rejoicing.

British troops entered Tobruk in January, 1941, when General Wavell's first offensive swept over Libya. But in April, when mechanized Axis units drove the British forces back behind the Egyptian frontier, the Tobruk garrison was by-passed and left with all its land communications severed. There was still the sea & the British Navy however to supply food and ammunition. It was a strange sort of siege. Mail from home arrived more or less regularly, and some troops of the beleaguered garrison were taken to London on a tour last Summer.

Still there was hardship and fighting aplenty. The situation of the Australian and Indian troops was always precarious, for they were constantly in danger of being wiped out by superior Axis forces. The colonial settlement they held on the paved military highway that skirts the shore from French Tunisia to Egypt was of considerable strategic importance. It was a salient deep within the enemy lines and a dagger that military observers held would have to be blunted before the Axis forces could attempt a major offensive against the Suez. The men of Tobruk have aided materially in the defense of Egypt and they have added another glorious chapter to British military history.

HOW PRICE CEILING PROTECTS FARMERS

In a recent radio address dealing with the fixing of the ceiling of prices and the relation of such to inflation, Donald Gordon, Chairman, War-time Prices and Trade Board, said the farmer can play his part by producing much as he can of the food products most required. Inflation may seem to benefit farmers by raising the prices of their products, but in the end, when deflation follows, the farmer faces ruin, he explained. Under the price ceiling, the farmer is protected for the first time against a rise in the price of the goods he must buy and he has a vital concern in making the price ceiling work.

Mr. Gordon said "One of the dangers of inflation is the fact that it is disguised in fancy terms which make it hard to understand. Don't bother about the fancy terms. There are just two plain things we must know. First—what inflation does, so we can realize why we must defeat it. Second, how inflation happens, so we can know how to fight it. First then, what does inflation do? Why is it bad? Why must we defeat it at all costs?"

"This is what inflation does. It puts prices and costs into a spiral that climbs faster and faster. Wages and salaries never catch up. Fixed incomes are left far behind. The cost of living climbs higher and higher, beyond your income. The dollar in your pocket becomes worth less and less. Your savings shrink away."

"Inflation begins as a nation's war effort. In times of peace, this tremendous production would mean prosperity because we would be producing goods for our own use and enjoyment. But the things we are producing today are mainly for war and we have less and less of the goods and commodities that we want for ordinary use. What happens is simple enough. On one hand, in the form of our Government, we begin to bid up to buy the commodities we must have for war. On the other hand, as individual citizens, we bid against our Government to buy things for our ordinary use. We thus get into a process of bidding against ourselves, and up go prices and costs to start the inflation spiral. There is only one way to fight it. It is the price ceiling."

SEED SUPPLIES
It may seem a trifle early to begin thinking about seed, but it may soon be too late to secure good seed of coarse grains and forage crops. The farmer who waits until the end of March to discover that he needs 50 or 100 bushels of seed barley will probably find it necessary to use third-rate stuff.

The demand for feed grains this winter in eastern, as well as western, Canada, combined with the shortage of elevator storage space, is resulting in a rapid turnover. Then, also, harvesting conditions were so bad in many districts, resulting in large quantities of damp and sprouted grain, that local seed shortages will be numerous.

The Agricultural Department of The North-West Line Elevators Association does not hesitate to advise a germination test for all oats and barley seed this year. Samples of wheat, oats, barley, flax or rye need only be delivered to a grain buyer of any line elevator company associated with this Department in order to obtain a reliable test.

Any farmer who knows now that he will require seed oats or barley next spring, should take immediate steps to secure the required amount.

The situation respecting supplies of grass and clover seed may be similar, and delay in ordering may lead to disappointment in the spring.

Of course, many farmers will be unable to decide upon the question of coarse grain and forage crop seed requirements until the Dominion Government announces a wheat policy for 1942.

THE FORCE OF MORALITY

"I came across the other day, a quotation from Lord Courtney which seems to me admirably to express the faith that will not fail us:—

"There will be many who tell us we are dreamers... dreamers of fine dreams; that the world is governed by force, has been so governed, and ever will be."

"It is they who are misled. The force they speak of is physical force, which comes and passes; those who gain the earth by it gain only but a transitory honor."

"The force which really governs the world is the Force of morality. It is through moral force we shall win the victory."

"I am convinced myself that Lord Courtney will be proved right."—Anthony Eden.

MORE steel is needed for more ships, more tanks, more planes, more guns, more munitions.

Canada right now is faced with a shortage of iron and steel. During the first nine months of 1940, Canada produced about 1,500,000 tons of steel ingots; during the first nine months of 1941, she produced more than 1,750,000 tons of steel ingots; during the first nine months of 1942, she MUST produce over 2,000,000 tons of steel ingots.

Steel is not made out of thin air. It is made out of iron ore, and pig iron, and scrap iron and steel. A mill that can turn out 200 tons in a given time using iron ore and pig iron can turn out 500 tons using pig iron and scrap metal.

EXPERIMENTAL STATION LETHBRIDGE

WEEKLY LETTER
GARDEN LOCATIONS

During the past three years horticultural competitions have been sponsored by the A.I.A.'s in the various districts. Prizes have been awarded for the best growing garden and for exhibits of the produce grown. Gardens in six districts; namely, Enchant, Cereal, Lake Thelma, Craigville, Bindloss, and Irvine, have been judged by a representative from Lethbridge Experimental Station during the past summer.

These neighbourly competitions have aroused considerable interest in the care and management of the garden. They have also emphasized the necessity of having a good shelter belt at a favorable location.

When judging a garden site a number of factors have been considered. Soil, distance from the house, shelter, and water conserving possibilities, have stood out as essentials. The climatic conditions during the past summer again have forced upon the gardener the realization that more moisture than a season's precipitation is necessary to raise a garden. Summer following part of the garden each year has helped a great deal, but even this has not been sufficient in a very dry year. It is during the very dry season when a garden has its greatest economic value, so more consideration has been given to some form of irrigation.

The average dugout waters a good sized garden, or maybe the garden can be placed beside a small dam.

In some districts an abundant supply of good water has been obtained from shallow wells. This is pumped without much cost onto the garden during the drier periods.

Too often the cry is heard that, "I cannot afford to buy pumps, pipes, hose, sprays, etc." Can you afford to be without a good garden? In many cases this outlay of capital is not necessary if stock is taken of the second hand equipment lying about the farm. There may be an old engine, pump, or other parts that can be brought into service. Home-made windmills have been constructed for pumping water. Water will flow in ditches; pipes are not always necessary, even if a ridge has to be built on which to carry the ditch. There are many ways to overcome this element of cost. Before giving up in despair and saying, "I can't afford it," do a little serious thinking and planning. Others have done it. Why not you?

You may have been without a good garden for many years, all for the lack of surplus water and shelter. It is not too late to move the garden to a more favoured location and obtain greater returns for your labours.

WHEAT QUOTAS NOW OPEN

The Wheat Board has announced that all wheat quotas are now open in Western Canada. The farmers are permitted to deliver all their wheat if they care to do so. Furthermore, with the general improvement in the situation with regard to elevator space and railway cars, the Wheat Board has decided to suspend the regulation restricting a farmer's deliveries to one delivery point. Thus for the balance of the crop year farmers may deliver their wheat at any delivery point they choose. It is still necessary for all deliveries to be entered in the permit book.

New Markets Created For
Surplus Wheat Stocks

Four plants for the manufacture of power alcohol from wheat are to be erected in Australia according to advice received by The North-West Line Elevators Association. The distilleries are to be erected in each of the four states of the Commonwealth and each will have a capacity of 3,000,000 gallons annually.

The North-West Line Elevators Association completed a survey three years ago on the possibility of manufacturing power alcohol from Canada's surplus wheat stocks. Following this survey the Line Elevators laid this report before the Canadian government as a possible means of creating new markets for 30,000,000 bushels of Canadian wheat annually.

R. P. Bower, assistant Canadian trade commissioner in Australia, has reported to the Canadian government that with wheat costing approximately 70 cents per bushel it is estimated alcohol could be produced at a cost of 26 cents per gallon. A committee of inquiry appointed by the Government of Australia reports that the cost of erecting a 4,000,000 gallon-a-year plant is $1,440,000. One bushel of wheat yields two and one-half gallons of power alcohol. By adding a 15 p.c. mixture of power alcohol to ordinary gasoline, the efficiency of ordinary gasoline is increased by fifteen points.

They had been sitting in the swing in the moonlight, alone. No word broke the stillness for half an hour until—

"Suppose you had money," she said, "what would you do?" He threw out his chest in all the glory of young manhood. "I'd travel!" he said. He felt her warm young hands slide into his. When he looked up she had gone, in his hand lay a nickel.

They Carry On

At a Y.M.C.A. Hut in Scotland all functions close with the singing of two verses of "Abide With Me."

The explanation of this custom goes back to a letter received by the Supervisor from a young British soldier who had been stationed nearby and had participated enthusiastically in all of the Centre's activities.

"Will you," he wrote, naming a time and a day, "sing my old favorite 'Abide With me'? I'll be thinking of you while you're doing it."

The day and time he had specified came and the hymn was sung.

Just across the North Sea on that day and at that hour British troops were fighting and dying and winning immortal glory on the beach of Dunkirk.

The young soldier who had made the request was one of those who never left that beach.

In his honour the custom of closing all functions at that 'Y' with a verse or two of his favourite hymn still lives on.

Canadian Tanks From C.P.R. Shops

The craftsmen of the Canadian Pacific Railway Angus Shops at Montreal are proud of the powerful tanks they are building for the Canadian, British and Allied Armies. These mighty weapons stream off the assembly lines as the day and night shifts labor to produce more and more of these "Valentines for Victory." The illustration shows a number of the tanks in mass formation just before they rolled aboard Canadian Pacific flat-cars for shipment to the fighting fronts.

Welcome to Raymond

It is with pride and satisfaction of the members of the Sugar faction that we herald the completion of the gravelled-highway between Raymond and Craddock and we hope that it will prove that gives us an all weather connection with the Sunshine Trail and with our neighboring towns to the east and south. It has been a matter of real regret that bad roads has to an extent marred the friendliness that has always existed between the business firms of Raymond and the nearby towns along the Sunshine Trail. We sincerely hope that the completion of this fine new highway will remedy this condition and that our neighbors to the east will visit us regularly for the services which Raymond can supply that are not available in these towns.

We are thankful to the Sugar City Municipality and to the Provincial Government, that this nine mile link has been completed. It has been a long and prolonged effort to accomplish it, but through our local Board of Trade and its Road Committee and the sympathy

Despite the severe weather, the Tri-Stake Men and Gleaner banquet on Tuesday evening, December 30th, was an outstanding success both as regards attendance and as regards program and banquet.

Tables were laid for 200, and when the last ones were seated extra plates had been set for 10 more making a total of 210. Alberta and Lethbridge Stakes were very well represented despite the cold, and the wards of the Taylor Stake turned out nearly 100 per cent.

Following the supper, a program was put on by the Lethbridge Stake members, and this was followed by dancing until midnight. The annual banquets are becoming the social highlight of the year for the Mutual people of these groups, and the high tenor of the evening's entertainment speaks well for the

The Women's Smartest Service

All this show of efficiency - full job. They caught onto a new and there on top of the stenographer's desk a bottle of scented nail polish!

The reporter, who until then had been quite overwhelmed by the precision of the women soldier-secretaries she had seen in action at Mewata barracks, and at Currie, smiled indulgently at this little hangover from civilian life. This was familiar ground—this was a reminder that the women soldiers were still women first and soldiers second.

However the uniformed young lady sitting at the desk suddenly picked up the bottle of red fluid, and the reporter read not "Purple Pir-te," or "P. seal red," or some other fantastic name—but "Correcting Fluid." The typist was using it in her work of getting out daily routine orders.

Whatever the reporter thought about the girls, their "boss" Sgt. Major W. J. Bagnall, who is in charge of the Central Orderly room at Currie barracks thinks "They're doing a wonder ing Centre at Currie, is "very pleased" with them all. "They're really exceptionally good, you know," he commented, "exceptionally good."

One might say of the women's army—"Never have so many worked so hard for so little—and enjoyed it so much."

At least, just a recital of the day-by-day activities of the women soldiers is completely exhaustive.

Nicholas Alexander, the sergeant-major in charge of their training at Newata, told the reporter about it—with a sort of grim satisfaction, she thought. For instance, the girls rise at 6.30 a.m., and have breakfast, after which they clean their huts—"THOROUGHLY!" the sergeant major says with dark meaning.

The first parade is at 8.30, and after that they go on a route march for three quarters of an hour. The reporter asked how far they would go on a route march, and received the answer, "Well, they go 120 paces a minute, that is, 100 yards a minute, for 45 minutes figure it out for yourself!"

Following the route march, the girls have three lectures of three quarters of an hour each with 15 minute breaks in between, in these they learn about such things as discipline, and "interior economy," which isn't nearly as exciting as it sounds, meaning merely administration within the unit.

They have lunch at 12.30, and the parade falls in at the armories at 1.45.

The afternoon is spent in "basic training" that is, elementary drill. They have three three-quarter-hour periods of what the sergeant-major describes as "real hard work," following which, (if they have the strength) they march back to the barracks.

From then until supper time at 5.30 they occupy the idle hours with kitchen fatigue, mousing fire picket, and so on. And then—from six o'clock until ten, their time is their own!

They have one late pass a week which privileges them to stay out until two o'clock. Other wise it's lights out at ten.

The girls are at first attached as recruits, and then, after a three month probationary period, are "enrolled as volunteers." The green recruit learns very quickly, the sergeant-major says. "It's amazing to see the change from the 'ugly duckling' stage to the quite-at-her-ease recruits of two weeks' standing."

CANADIAN WOMEN'S ARMY CORPS
"The Women's Smartest Service"

Raymond Town Hall and Soldier's Memorial

In an office at Mewata barracks marked "Orderly Room", are a number of big brown envelopes, bearing the stamps "On His Majesty's Service." Each one represents a member of the women's army, for each contains the entire life record of one recruit.

Here it is that the Canadian Women's Army Corps in Calgary is administered. Here Mrs. Ethel English, the officer commanding of "P" company, Mrs. Leona McIlvaine, and Miss Pearl Brent, together with a staff-sergeant, work from 8.30 until 5 o'clock every day. Here it is that the complaint is so often heard that "there are just not enough days in the week."

They are just as efficient, they dress as well, march probably a little better—in nearly all respects, a woman soldier exactly resembles her male counterpart.

But there's one exception—when a woman soldier salutes

—she smiles. It's against the regulations, but women are so used to smiling a greeting, that they can't suddenly stop. As a consequence they salute smartly in the most military fashion—and then break into an R.S.V.P. grin.

It's a delightful habit, and one which might very well be generally adopted. Perhaps one day the company sergeant-major will be bellowing at his men

YOU CAN'T DENY IT

"When I rose to speak, they threw cowardly eggs at me."

"What sort of eggs are those, Mister?"

"A cowardly egg is one that hits you and then runs."—Exchange.

"Okay, OKAY! But when you do that—SMILE!"

COLD WEATHER

Descending the day before Christmas, heralded by snow, cold weather has held the district in its grip until Jan. 5th, when it moderated some, although still no comparison with what prevailed during all of December.

No records were made for cold, but the days and nights both remained unusually steady cold, and at dark and day-break the mercury did some nose dives that were almost spectacular. Roads have been open all the time about the only trouble being with cars that didn't like starting in the cold.

NEWS NOTES

Our school teachers returned over the week-end to resume their duties after the nearly two weeks holiday.

Signed by 26 anti-Axis nations the recent pact to seek no separate peace means the end of Hitlerism and aggression. In the Chinese interpretation it means "one war—one alliance—one peace."

At Rotary meeting on Monday R. J. Another of his hobbies is gardening and he has some wonderful and rare plants in his home.

Britain has called up all her seventeen year old youths. These boys will not enter active service until they are 19, but the call has been made so that any not now engaged in youth training of some sort, may be encouraged to become interested to be better soldiers when they are needed.

Helen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Hall was brought home from the Hospital on Friday after a serious spell of illness. She had been operated on for appendicitis, and was progressing nicely when infection attacked her bloodstream and for a day or two she was very ill. She is progressing nicely now.

The Readers Progress Club held their regular meeting Wednesday afternoon in the Sugar Bowl. It was a Xmas party and the members all exchanged gifts and each one contributed to the program with a verse or some special saying. The entertainment was Court Whist. A most enjoyable time is reported.

John H. Blackmore, M. P., has been a very busy man the past month addressing clubs and organizations throughout the district on his recent visit to England. Making a very clear concise talk on his visit, he has burned enthusiasm and loyalty deeper into the hearts of Canadians all over Southern Alberta.

Both Canada and the United States have frozen all stocks of automobiles and light trucks and these vehicles can only be purchased now on special permit. This with the order freezing all tires has created a situation across the continent where people will have to get the last mile out of present conveyances. Provisions are made for those who have to have new cars, and the set up will be planned to serve the greatest number with the least inconvenience to citizens.

THE "GREAT MISCALCULATOR"

A contemporary sociologist recently declared that in the writing of the history of 1,000 years, Hitler will be entitled to about two lines. From the looks of things on the Moscow front, one of those lines will be taken up by calling him the "great miscalculator."

The list of those miscalculations is becoming impressive. Not only did Hitler misjudge the Russians. He misjudged the British, who somehow don't scare. He misjudged the Americans, who somehow got to a point where they do fight. He misjudged the Italians, who are more civilized than he thought. And he misjudged the Japanese, whose cafeteria appetites cause them to take on more than they can handle.

He has misjudged basic technical strategies. Signmarine warfare has proved indecisive. Three times he has revised his basic air strategy only to find that the Luftwaffe could not obtain victory alone. The blitzkrieg seemed brilliant while it was inworking order, but once it loses momentum the possibilities of reversal are tremendous.

Geo-politics too, has added to the miscalculations. Japan was intended to give the United States a two-front war. Hitler may find that the national unity and the drive given the American war effort by Nippon's unprovoked attack, may more than offset what the Nazi hoped to gain. The story of Libya is still unfolding. But the time schedule for the closing of the Suez is badly askew. And it is not impossible that coming days may see Hitler sorry that he ever undertook to bring Africa into his front line.

Miscalculations, too, stand the record of Hitler's military diplomacy. Iraq and Iran must be listed among his failures. Turkey. His "victories" west of the Dardanelles only temporary.

"Where You Get More of the Best for Less"

Mrs. N. W. Peterson received a card during the Xmas holidays, informing her that her son Douglas Costley, had recorded a message which was sent out by the CBC at the 10:30 to 11 p.m. Broadcast December 26th. Needless to say the message was greatly enjoyed, and the work of the CBC in mailing out so many of these cards must be greatly appreciated by kinfolk of those making the messages.

There has been no very serious illness during the holidays but many have been afflicted with colds and light attacks of flu.

Elder Willis Taylor was the main speaker at the 2nd Ward Conjoint service Sunday evening last. Mrs. J. H. Walker gave a retold story and the special musical numbers provided made a very interesting program, attended by a large crowd.

TELL POTATO GROWERS OF NEW REGULATIONS RE CERTIFIED SEED

Growers of certified seed potatoes in Canada have been advised of the new regulations governing the production of seed potatoes which will come into effect in 1942 as additional safeguards against diseases. Continuous care and supervision are necessary to maintain seed stocks to certification standards. L. S. McLaine, Chief Plant Protection Division, Dominion Department of Agriculture, points out and certain practices have been found to be essential as measures of prevention control. If a new disease threatens to lower the quality of seed stocks, or if present practices prove inadequate, new measures become necessary to meet the new developments and to maintain the very high reputation of Canadian certified seed potatoes.

The main points of the new regulations are: (1) a field will not be inspected for certification if any field on the same farm is planted with non-certified seed; (2) if bacterial ring rot is found in any one field crop all fields and crops in the same farm will be rejected; (3) growers on whose premises bacterial ring rot is found are required to practise control measures as recommended by the Division of Botany and Plant Pathology, Dominion Department of Agriculture; (4) growers are required to plant by tuber units at least one-tenth of each field entered for certification, unless foundation seed or seed recommended by district inspectors is planted; (5) growers who purchase seed for planting fields to be entered for certification must purchase foundation seed or as recommended by district inspectors; and (6) growers will be required to give a receipt for official tags they receive, and to supply details of shipments for which the tags have been used.

Factory Campaign Finished

The last of the beets went through the washer at the local Factory at 4 a.m. Wednesday morning, concluding a run of about 105 days. The cleaning up is still in progress but will be finished today or tomorrow when the curtain goes down on another successful sugar campaign.

Picture Butte is also finished and the two mills processed 300,000 tons of sugar beets during the run.

A number of families who have been living here during the run are moving to their homes again now, and after a week's lay off, the overhaul crew of the Factory will go back to work again and commence the task of dismantling and repairing the miles of pipe line and the other pieces of equipment which, because of the crystallizing nature of the sugar juices have to be overhauled each year.

Paul Evans, who recently joined the R.C.A.F. in Calgary, is home on leave for a few days getting things ready to leave.

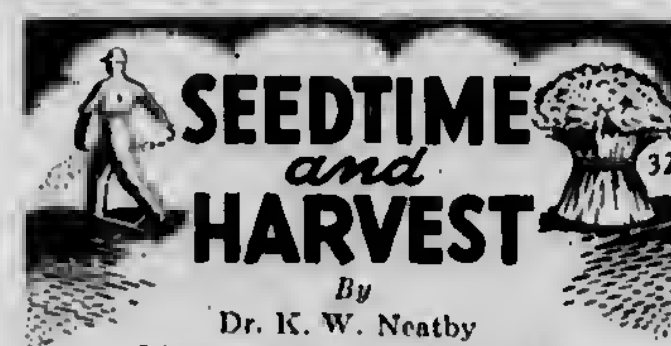

Willis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank R. Taylor, after spending the holiday season here with relatives and friends, has returned to Utah, and will go into military training as a soldier of the United States government.

WEDDING BELLS

THOMSON — DUNCOMBE

Joyce Doris, oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lowell B. Duncombe, of Raymond and Mervin, third son of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Thomson of Magrath, were quietly married at the bride's home Christmas Day at 5 p.m., with Bishop L. L. Palmer of the Raymond 2nd Ward performing the ceremony. All members of both families were present to witness the ceremony and wish the young couple health and happiness in their journey through life.

The bride was lovely in a floor length gown of white chiffon and carried a lovely bouquet of flowers. They left after the wedding supper for a short honeymoon in Calgary, and the bride will later join her husband at the West Coast where he is stationed in the armed forces. With their many friends we join in wishing them happiness and success in their married life.

Wheat Stem Sawfly

No one can say that the wretched insect named above did not do its best to reduce the Canadian wheat surplus in 1941. However, since its methods result in direct and sometimes severe losses to farmers, it should be fought with every weapon at our command.

Some farm pests can be defeated only by the efforts of professionally trained agricultural experts. Stem rust of wheat is a good example, because the farmer could do little but await the distribution of resistant varieties. Not so with the wheat stem sawfly. Methods of controlling this pest have been worked out by professional entomologists in co-operation with farmers. It remains now for farmers to adopt the recommended practices.

The "Wartime Production Series" of pamphlets published by the Dominion Government has included some very useful literature. One of the best pamphlets in the series is one prepared by Dr. C. W. Farstad and entitled "Control of Wheat Stem Sawfly in the Prairie Provinces." Any farmer who owns a sawfly should also own a copy of this leaflet. It is well and clearly written and the recommendations made are based on careful and extensive field observations.

All grain buyers of companies associated with the Agricultural Department of The North-West Line Elevators Association have received copies, and will be glad to lend them. Farmers may secure their own by writing to the Publications Branch, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa. For further information on sawfly and other insects, apply to the Dominion Entomological Laboratories at Lethbridge, Saskatoon or Brandon. This Department and sponsoring companies take this opportunity to wish all readers a Happy and Prosperous New Year.
